The responsibly body for this online website regarding the data protection law is Extrude Hone GmbH Holzgünz Germany. For further information about the way of exercising your rights or questions corresponding to the declaration, please contact: Dr. Otto Grohmann

Recording and Processing Personal Data

To secure the system, the domain name or IP address of the requesting computer including the date of access, the file request from the client (file name and URL), the HTTP response code and the previous opened web site, as well as the number of bytes transmitted in the course of the connection, will be temporarily recorded during your visit on our website. Personal data for specific purposes, for example as part of a request for information, a competition, an application/request for information on a job, or something similar, are not captured unless you provide this information on a voluntary basis. This includes information such as your name, your address, your telephone number or your email address. Furthermore, the treatment of personal information which was collected by Extrude Hone during your visit on any of our internet publications takes place in line with the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany.

Use and Disclosure of the Above Mentioned Personal Data

In each specific case personal data are solely used to the extent required and not beyond. This includes technical website administration and the meeting of your requests and demands according to the stated purposes or for product-related surveys and marketing purposes. Only when forced by law, data will be processed to the state authorities. The confidentiality is the main priority of our staff.

Google Analytics

On our website a web analysis service from Google Inc. ("Google") is used, called Google Analytics. By saving so-called "cookies", text files, on your computer, Google Analytics allows to analyze your usage of the website. The collection of your produced usage-information during your website visit is afterwards transferred and saved at a server operated by Google in the USA. Within all member states of the European Union and in all other countries who are contract partners to the Agreement on the European Economic Area, the user's IP address is first truncated by Google as a result of activation of IP anonymization on this web site.

Transfer and saving of a complete IP address to a server which is engaged by Google in the USA takes only place in exceptional scenarios.

Under the authority of the organization running this website, information will be used by Google to compile reports on web site activity and to provide the organization running the online publication with further services related to web site utilization and the usage of the Internet.

A combination with other data from Google and your IP address provided by your browser, when utilizing

Google Analytics, will not be carried out.
